CVEN 221 Honors – Homework #7

1) For Several Problems, Create a spreadsheet or program that can be used to determine the moment of a point caused by a vector. The inputs should include two points and a magnitude that defines the force vector and two points that define the r vector. You may check your program by solving the problems given by McGraw-Hill Connect.